APPEALS TO PRESIDENT

Relative of Testator Tries to Interest Roosevelt in Case of Hawaiian Estate of Late Charles Brenig of This City—Wants Case Reopened.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Mrs. Caroline Bickel of Allegheny, Pa., has written to President Roosevelt asking his assistance in securing what is due her from a fortune of $100,000.00 or more left by an uncle, Charles Brenig, who went to Hawaii in 1860 under the name of Simeon Weibert. She alleges that the will under which Samuel M. Damon, formerly a member of President Doie's cabinet, is made chief beneficiary was forged.

From the above dispatch it would appear that a new move in one of Hawaii's famous law cases was to be made. Brenig came here many years ago and by his thrift and good fortune accumulated quite a sum of money. He died in San Francisco in 1888, leaving an estate valued at about fifty thousand dollars which was left to Samuel M. Damon and E. P. Adams. His wife, a native woman, was also a beneficiary under the will which had been drawn up by Sanford B. Doie, then an attorney.

After the publication of the will the probating of the document was contested by the wife and son on the grounds that the testator was of unsound mind at the time of the execution of the instrument. The case dragged its way through the Hawaiian courts and was finally decided against the contestants.

Relatives in the States then entered a protest against the distribution of the property as they had been expressly cut off from any share in the testator's fortune, and claimed that he had promised them remembrances. One of these relatives is the one who is now attempting to interest President Roosevelt in her effort to share in the estate.

From those who were acquainted with Brenig when here, it is learned that Samuel M. Damon and E. P. Adams were his closest friends and business advisors and that, through them, he was able to make the success he did in the accumulation of his competency. That the will was not a forgery was long ago settled.

HEALANI MEN WILL

ENTERTAIN FREELY IN COMING YEAR

Great preparations are being made by the committee having in charge the Healan men celebration for New Year's Day. In a day or two invitations, which are being illustrated by Ralph O. Yardley, will be issued and each member will receive two, which he will in turn send to his friends. Besides dancing, which will be the feature of the "at home," a musical entertainment and feast are being arranged.

Starting in the New Year with a jollification, it will be the aim of the committee to keep things moving and make the social life of the club for the year to come one to be long remembered. Within a short time plans for a water carnival, and later a Mardi Gras ball, will be made and these, with several smokers and ladies' jinks will be provided for the members and their friends.

If the plans of the directors of the club do not miscarry the club house will soon be added to extensively and a dancing floor provided that will be second to none in the city. It is proposed to extend the present building about twenty feet at the front and one side by the construction of a spacious hall. Bids will soon be called for the work.
